"Technology which keeps you ahead"

Introduction

Softvent is a fast growing company with clients in the India and the Middle East. We have learnt to marshal our people, technical and infrastructure assets to provide customers with an appropriate blend of offshore outsourcing strategies. We are proud to say that all the customers that we have ever worked with have entrusted us with numerous repeated engagements.

"Technology which keeps you ahead" has always been our motto. Our goal is to provide comprehensive business solutions to help achieve your business objectives completely.

We have seen tremendous growth in the last four years. As an organization we have grown from a two-employee company to over 20 employees. In the process we have seen a compounded annual growth of over 100% each year.

One of the most significant advantages that we have had by being in India's Silicon Valley (Bangalore) is being able to deliver quality solutions using a talented pool of software engineers at a very affordable price.

"Technology which keeps you ahead"

Introduction

We believe that creation of high quality software is a blend of creative thinking and rigorous implementation. Driven by our mission to deliver high quality development solutions, the foundation of Softvent is a set of core values that are intrinsically woven into every aspect of its operations.

- To ensure the delivery of best quality products and services by establishing and maintaining strict quality control procedures.

- Enhance and maintain superior technical and environmental infrastructure to increase productivity.

- To strive to achieve maximum customer satisfaction by being attentive towards the customers technical requirements and cultural expectations .

- To respect our fellow teams members and recognize their commitment and expertise.

- To promote innovation, flexibility, and constantly improve.

Softvent's Origin

Softvent Technologies was started office as a small unit in 1999, in the city of Bangalore. Right from the inception of Softvent, OTIS Elevators Company has played a vital role in fine-tuning & moulding Softvent's ability to understand & deliver modules in an efficient manner. Their continued support has helped us in achieving even higher and complex goals. With their good-wishes, we are entering into the successful 8th year.

Softvent's Infrastructure

"Technology which keeps you ahead"

Internet Solutions provides a A-class infrastructure for software development. The office is equipped with state-of-the-art hardware and software.

- Fully integrated network of computers.
- Full internet access at every workstation, for everybody.
- A UPS (uninterrupted power supply) system with adequate capacity to protect all the equipment and to ensure constant supply of power
- A backup generator to supply power in case of outages (the combination of UPS and backup generator ensures 14 hours power supply all the time; this is very important in a city like Bangalore where the supply is unreliable).
- All the required compiling tools, productivity tools and debugging tools for software development.
- The entire backup process is automated and data is captured using Backup Information Management System, a workgroup-based tool.
- Continuous e-mail access and groupware enabled MS-Outlook.
- Secured network with a firewall.
- Sophisticated source code version control.
- Database design case tools, rigorous quality assurance tools like Win Runner.
